Hardage-Giddens Funeral Homes offers peace of mind to St. Johns families

Hardage-Giddens Funeral Homes have been serving the Jacksonville area since 1927 when Robert Hardage, Sr. began his business and the Rev. T.J. Giddens followed suit with his business in 1932.

Their sons took over the reins of the businesses, and it led to a merger in 1972.

By 1975 the two firms were acquired by Service Corporation International, and since that time, the footprint of the business has expanded into the many suburban areas of Duval, Clay and now St. Johns County.

The mission of Hardage-Giddens St. Johns is to serve each family with dignity, respect and integrity while providing service excellence.

"We strive to provide unique services that fit the needs of each family we have the privilege of serving," Robin Giddens Sheppard said.

The Hardage-Giddens St. Johns location is 1285 St. Johns Parkway.

Giddens Sheppard serves as the Vice President of Hardage-Giddens and oversees the daily operations of Hardage-Giddens St. Johns.

"Jessica Carroll is our office manager, who keeps us all in line, and Toni Pacetti Stenmark is our family service counselor, who provides pre-arrangement services," Giddens Sheppard said.

Funeral directors and staff associates from the business's various locations assists as needed.

Hardage-Giddens provides families with funeral and cremation services and assist with arranging traditional funeral services in their on-site chapel or at a church.

"We can arrange for unique final remembrances, such as placing ashes into a memorial reef or even sending someone into orbit," Giddens Sheppard said.

According to Giddens Sheppard, doing what is necessary to give families the peace of mind needed during an emotional time through unique ways is what makes Hardage-Giddens St. Johns an innovator in the funeral service business.

"We strive to provide unique and meaningful services for our families," Giddens Sheppard said. "Hardage-Giddens St. Johns has a familial atmosphere, where we take care of each other so that we can provide the best services possible to our client families. We want our client families to feel that we are taking the best care possible of their loved one and that same care is given to them."

Giddens Sheppard understands that it is important to not forget that a funeral service and the process of planning leading up to it is not just for those who have passed away, but also for all those who knew that person and are now left behind.

Never forgetting that is something Giddens Sheppard takes pride in.

"We are professionals with a sympathetic ear to care for their loved one and guide them through the funeral/ cremation process," Giddens Sheppard said.

Anyone in need of Hardage-Giddens' services or with questions about their offerings can call 904-342-1011 or email Robin.Sheppard@DignityMemorial.com.

Take a road trip to a celeb-owned restaurant

Welcome to the dead of winter, a time when the northern two-thirds of the country thinks about hitting the road to the southern third for a sorely needed respite from the cold.

If that description fits you – and you happen to also be a foodie who likes to check out celebrity-owned restaurants – we've assembled a list of eateries in said southern third that you may find are worth your hard-earned vacation dollars.

Jason Aldean's Kitchen + Rooftop Bar: Southern food and live entertainment are the bread and butter of this Nashville establishment co-owned by the country music star, which offers up a varied menu of burgers, salads, sandwiches and steaks, and is highlighted by a 32-ounce "Tommy Hawk" bone-in ribeye. And if you're just coming for drinks, sipping a cocktail or beer at the rooftop bar is an experience not to be missed.

Meril: Located in New Orleans' Warehouse District, Emeril Lagasse's fourth Big Easy eatery has a casual atmosphere and an open-style kitchen, from which some of the chef's favorite dishes are prepared, such as wood fired flatbreads, Korean chicken wings and a fettuccine Nero. There is also a large bar area that serves varied wines and craft cocktails. Insider's tip: Try the barbecued shrimp.

Hell's Kitchen Caesars Palace: As one might think, Gordon Ramsay is behind this eatery on the Las Vegas Strip that's inspired by his TV series of the same name. Here, guests will feel like they're on the show's set as they dine on entrees ranging from beef wellington and crispy skin salmon to vegetarian offerings such as a quinoa salad and an artichoke risotto. And the cocktails are exotic and imaginative. Just make sure to make reservations early because it gets crowded.

Nic & Norman's: Located in Senoia, Ga., about 35 miles south of Atlanta, is this eatery co-owned by "The Walking Dead" star Norman Reedus and executive producer Greg Nicotera that features an array of tavern-style options ranging from soups, salads and gourmet burgers to entrees like brisket mac and cheese, Coca-Cola braised pork shank and homestyle meatloaf. It also has a "Walking Dead" vibe, so be prepared.

Morimoto Asia: If you happen to be at Florida's Walt Disney World and get a hankering for Asian, this restaurant from Iron Chef Masaharu Morimoto is worth a try. It features a menu of pan-Asian favorites such as ribs, sushi, Peking duck and wagyu beef as well as more exotic fare like orange chicken and a Mongolian filet. We hear the duck is the star of the show.
