Boldly going: 'Star Trek' prequel explores 'Strange New Worlds' again A prequel series in one of sci-fi's most iconic franchises is ready to go, boldly, back to the roots of the saga.

"Star Trek: Strange New Worlds" begins its 10-episode second season Thursday, June 15, on Paramount+, as it continues the exploits of the starship Enterprise when it was under the command of Capt. Christopher Pike (Anson Mount, "Doctor Strange in the Multiverse of Madness," 2022), the predecessor of the vessel's legendary later skipper, James T. Kirk (played by "The Vampire Diaries" Paul Wesley, who reprises the recurring role in Season 2). Spun off from another prequel show, "Star Trek: Discovery," "Strange New Worlds" has even more in store for fans: A third season already has been ordered, ahead of the premiere of Season 2.

"We have tried to harken back to some of the values and styles of the original series that got those of us who are a little older ignited on our 'Star Trek' journeys," explains executive producer Akiva Goldsman. "In doing so, we've tried to look back and interpolate some parts of the original series that might not have made it to the screen, some things that might have happened just before Jim Kirk took over the Enterprise. And, as such, some familiar faces are finding new life."

Mount brought his Pike portrayal over from "Star Trek: Discovery," which also featured Ethan Peck ("In Time," 2011) as Spock and Rebecca Romijn ("X-Men," 2000) as Number One before they made the journey to "Strange New Worlds." Nurse Chapel (played by Jess Bush, "Playing For Keeps") and Ensign Uhura (Celia Rose Gooding, "Broadway Whodunit: Escape From Camp Eerie," 2020) are among other long-familiar characters who make their "Strange New Worlds" presence known. The second season of "Strange New Worlds" also includes Carol Kane ("Hunters") in a recurring role.

"There was something about 'Star Trek' that was so far off the radar for me," reflects "Hell on Wheels" alum Mount, who also is the character Black Bolt in the Marvel Cinematic Universe. "It wasn't even on my bucket list. I just never thought I would end up captaining the Enterprise. It's insane when you think about it. And every single day I'm on the set — I'm not exaggerating — is both disbelief and a feeling of tremendous gratitude."

A particularly intriguing crossover story is part of Season 2 of "Star Trek: Strange New Worlds," which will merge temporarily with "Star Trek: Lower Decks" ... an animated show. Franchise veteran Jonathan Frakes ("Star Trek: The Next Generation") directed that story, which features the voices of Tawny Newsome ("Space Force") and Jack Quaid ("The Boys") in their "Lower Decks" parts — and challenges traditional "Star Trek" boundaries by combining live action and animation.

Still, Goldsman maintains that he and his staff "are, by nature, people who like coloring books, and we sort of like staying within the lines as much as we can. We're 'Star Trek' fans, so (adhering to established) canon is almost always delightfully challenging, except when it's really a pain in the a—. But within reason, we still try to skew as closely to it as possible."

The adventure continues when Season 2 of "Star Trek: Strange New Worlds" premieres on Paramount+ Thursday, June 15.

What's Available NOW On

JUNE 18

"Movie: The Amazing Maurice"
Based on the book by Terry Pratchett, this computer-animated family film follows a streetwise ginger cat comes up with a money-making scheme by befriending a group of talking rats. When Maurice (voiced by Hugh Laurie) and the rodents reach the stricken town of Bad Blintz, their little con soon goes down the drain. Emilia Clarke, David Thewlis and Himesh Patel also voice star.

JUNE 22

"The Bear: Season 2"

Season 2 of the critically acclaimed FX series picks back up as fine-dining chef Carmen "Carmy" Berzatto (Jeremy Allen White), his sous chef, Sydney Adamu (Ayo Edebiri), and his family friend and shop manager, Richard "Richie" Jerimovich (Ebon Moss-Bachrach), strip the restaurant down to its bones and work to build it into something all their own, with a renewed focus on hospitality. As the crew at the shop undertake their own personal, transformational journeys, they grapple with juggling the insane bureaucracy of permits and contractors with the beauty and creative agony of menu planning.

'Food Truck Race' starts historic season of competition

After 15 seasons, "The Great Food Truck Race" is ready for a shakeup. With eight new episodes and higher-than-ever stakes, this special edition series will — for the first time — pit returning champions and industry professionals against some very talented up-and-coming rookies from across the country — all food truck novices. Their toughest challenge yet, "The Great Food Truck Race: David vs. Goliath," premieres Sunday, June 18, on Food Network.

Representing cuisines from all over the world — from Jamaican tacos and Pakistani street foods to elevated vegan dishes — this season's chefs hail from pop-ups, specialty spots and traditional restaurant kitchens alike, each prepared to face some of "TGFTR's" toughest food-truckers yet.

"Tyler welcomes the nine teams to Los Angeles, where the food truck business is booming and cutthroat," shared Food Network in a sneak peek of the season's first episode. "With five talented rookie teams who have never owned or operated a food truck and four teams of seasoned pros, this 'David vs. Goliath' battle gives each business the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to establish themselves in the country's food truck capital."

They go on to explain that: "For the first challenge, the teams must make a jaw-dropping dish that not only defines them as a business – but also demonstrates they are ready to compete at a high culinary level." From there, the teams "hit the baseball field to serve Little League players and their families," joined by Mookie Betts of the L.A. Dodgers.

As the season continues, the teams will be asked to make dishes inspired by the menus at chef Antonia Lofaso's well-known L.A.-based restaurants (Black Market Liquor Bar, DAMA and Scopa Italian Roots) and create masterpieces delicious enough to satisfy guest judges, chefs Jet Tila and Joe Sasto, along with last season's winner, Señoreata's Evanice Holz. Outside of the kitchen, the chefs must put their business savvy to the test, drawing crowds through social media and exercising their best and most effective selling techniques.

Parked in the city's business epicenter, these truck-runners are not only fighting against each other but also against a hectic flow of hungry people passing by, looking for a delicious meal on the quick. Fast-paced as ever, one team will be eliminated each episode, leaving only two to go head-to-head in a battle for the winning title and a $50,000 grand prize.

Only the strongest will survive Season 16 of "The Great Food Truck Race: David vs. Goliath," premiering Sunday, June 18, on Food Network.

AMERICAN

June 20
"Movie: Selma"

This 2015 Academy Award-winning film, set in 1965, tells the story of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s (David Oyelowo) efforts to secure equal voting rights for Black Americans. Despite violent opposition, Martin Luther King Jr. and his followers pressed forward on an epic march from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama, and their efforts culminated with President Lyndon Johnson signing the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

June 21 "Movie: American Sniper"

This biographical action drama follows U.S. Navy SEAL Chris Kyle (Bradley Cooper) as he takes his job — protect his comrades — to heart and becomes one of the most lethal snipers in American history. However, when he finally returns home to his family after four tours of duty, he finds that he cannot leave the war behind.

June 23 "I'm a Virgo"

A fantastical, coming-of-age joyride, this darkly comedic new series follows Cootie (Jharrel Jerome), a 13-foot-tall young Black man living in Oakland, California. After being hidden away for most of his life and growing up with only comic books and TV for company, Cootie escapes to experience everything the outside world has to offer.

Is Stabler on the schedule for next season?

Victims Unit" will start the next season on Thursdays as usual (with the exact timing of that dependent on the effects of the writers' strike).

With that schedule for those two shows, and the fairly frequently crossovers among the series in the franchise, it's entirely possible that Christopher Meloni will turn up in his Elliot Stabler role on one or both of those programs — especially given the character's renewed ties to Mariska Hargitay's Olivia Benson — before "Organized Crime" makes its official return. The new drama "Found" will have that last hour of NBC's Thursday schedule when the new season begins.

Q: I know "A Million Little Things" was set in Boston, but was it actually filmed there? — Gail Conover, via e-mail

A: The recently concluded ABC drama used Vancouver as its main production base throughout its five-season run. However, location work was done in Boston for certain scenes and episodes along the way, particularly when such very specific locations as the Boston Garden arena were involved.

Q: When was George Clooney on "Roseanne"? — Kate Williams, Weirton, W. Va.

A: He played Booker Brooks, the foreman at Wellman Plastics (and the boss of Roseanne Barr's title character and her younger sister Jackie, played by Laurie Metcalf), very early in the sitcom's run. Though he disappeared after the first season (1988-89), he returned for an appearance in the show's fourth year; then, Clooney attained true stardom when "ER" began in the fall of 1994.

June 18 "Miraculous Tales of Ladybug & Cat Noir: Season 5"

This computer-animated children's series, set in modern-day Paris, follows Marinette (voiced by Christina Valenzuela), who seems to be a normal teenage girl — she dreams of becoming a fashion designer, is a bit awkward and has a crush on a high school classmate. But, Marinette has a big, definitely not-so-ordinary secret: she lives a double life as a crime-fighting superhero known as Ladybug. She is assisted (though reluctantly, on her part) by fellow hero Cat Noir (Bryce Papenbrook), as the pair use their superpowers to help protect the city.

"Raven's Home: Season 6"

A spinoff of the Disney Channel series "That's So Raven" (2003-2007), new episodes from Season 6 of this sitcom follow the adventures of somewhat-psychic Raven Baxter (Raven-Symoné) and her son Booker (Issac Ryan Brown), who has inherited his mom's gift to catch glimpses of the future. Season 6 includes a European vacation, a reality show debut, a dip into volunteer work, and more. Rondell Sheridan and Mykal-Michelle Harris also star.

"Secret Invasion"

Set in the present-day MCU (Phase 5), Nick Fury (Samuel L. Jackson) learns of a clandestine invasion of Earth by a faction of shapeshifting Skrulls. Joining up with his allies — including Everett Ross (Martin Freeman), Maria Hill (Cobie Smulders) and the Skrull Talos (Ben Mendelsohn), who has made a life for himself on Earth — Fury and the team race against time to thwart the imminent Skrull invasion and save humanity.

June 23
"Movie: World's Best"

Co-written, co-executive produced and starring Utkarsh Ambudkar, Disney's all-new hiphop musical comedy adventure follows Prem Patel (Manny Magnus), a 12-year-old math genius who is in the depths of adolescence and navigating a world of hardships in the wake of his father's death. But, when Prem learns that his father, Suresh (Ambudkar), was a famous rapper, he sets out to pursue a career as a rap superstar for himself.
